Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written in dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. The handwriting is dense and somewhat difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and fading. The text appears to be organized into several paragraphs, with some lines starting with capital letters. The overall appearance is that of an old, handwritten manuscript.

NOTE.—It is not uncommon for Doubloons and parts of Doubloons to be light—Doubloons should be as heavy as American dollars. An act of Congress, March 3, 1813, legalized this kind of gold at 20 cents 9 mills per dust. When light its true value may be got at by weighing it with American silver, allowing 77 cents for the weight of a five cent piece. Portugal and Brazil pieces can be tested by allowing 80 cents for the weight of a five cent piece.

* The Double Ducat, (value $1.40,) so closely resembles the Sovereign, as to be distinguished only by its weight, being a thinner piece.

The foreign gold circulating in this country, will average 1 to 2 per cent less than the standard; we have therefore made our quotations to correspond with the weight of each piece.
